Forecast for Wednesday 03 Aug 2022

Weather: A dull, damp and windy start with outbreaks of rain and drizzle through the morning. Probably staying rather cloudy through the afternoon with scattered showers, although the odd brighter spell will be possible. Becoming dry and bright in the evening across the Ochils and Perthshire Hills. However, showers turning into longer spells of rain across the eastern Cairngorms as well as the Angus and Aberdeenshire Hills.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 40% in the morning, becoming 60% in the afternoon. Best chances across southeastern ranges, with more limited chances in the north.

Low Cloud and visibility: Occasional low cloud down to 600 or 700 m through the morning. A mixed bag through the afternoon with cloud becoming above summits across southern ranges, but lower cloud lingering where showers become more persistent in the north. Good visibility becoming moderate in rain or showers and very poor within low cloud.
